

Islip, NY – Islip Town Supervisor Phil Nolan (second from right) and Councilman John Edwards (second from left) recently visited The Rinx in Hauppauge to unveil the Town's second Environmental Awareness Sign.

The new sign contains vital environmental facts and useful tips for residents on how to live "green." A quote from Dr. Seuss was included to urge all to become more environmentally friendly: "Unless someone like you cares a whole awful lot, nothing is going to get better. It's not." The Town received a much appreciated donation from Keep Islip Clean to purchase the sign.

Pictured (left to right) are Nancy Cochran, Executive Director of Keep Islip Clean; Councilman Edwards; Supervisor Nolan; and Tom Palamara, manager of The Rinx.